PLAN TO FAVOR HALF-AND-HALF

Senate Subcommittee on Appropriations Will Report
Bill Today.

A unanimous report from the Committee on Appropriations will be made to the Senate today favoring the half-and-half plan of taxation for the District.

Against the opinion of the House, which favored a new system that would place 70 per cent of the burden of taxation upon the citizens of the District, is the unanimous belief of the Senate subcommittee on appropriations supplemented by the unanimous report of the full committee, that the present system of taxation is more equitable.

The real right for the retention of the present system is now expected to come before the Conference Committee. The Senate will undoubtedly sustain the report of the Appropriations Committee and the House conferees are credited with being insistent that the bill, as passed by the lower branch, be finally enacted into law. In the event of a deadlock, the old appropriation act will be continued.

Altogether, the Senate has been far more liberal than the House in the concessions granted the District in the bill. Citizens of the District will now concentrate their efforts in having the Senate conferees stand by the amended draft as it comes from the Senate.

HALF-AND-HALF ACTION GRATIFYING TO DISTRICT

Citizens of the District who have fought consistently for the retention of the half-and-half system of taxation were gratified at the report of the Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday favoring their cause.

Former District Commissioner Henry B. Macfarland, chairman of the joint citizens' committee on fiscal relations, last night issued the following statement:

"The action of the Senate Committee on Appropriations is highly gratifying. We knew that we could count upon the wisdom and justice of that committee, and we knew that it had taken similar action last year on a similar rider," the so-called Johnson amendment, so that it was not unexpected.

"It is none the less welcome. Now we hope that the Senate, which rejected the similar Johnson rider last year by a vote of 47 to 20, will reject this equally objectionable rider by a large majority."

THE DAILY ADVENTURES OF PUSS IN BOOTS, JR.

BEDTIME STORIES.

By DAVID CORY.

The Travelers Reach the Home of Mother Goose.

Something very nice happened during the night while Puss was sound asleep in the Moon. Of course, it had been traveling all night while Puss and Mother Goose, the Old Woman and the Gander, were sound asleep.

So in the morning, when Mother Goose looked out of her window, she gave a cry of glad surprise. The moon was exactly over the woods in which Mother Goose had her house.

"Well, we won't have far to travel now," she cried, "for we are pretty near home; in fact, we're just over it!"

"Walking up and down with a small gun over his shoulder."

It took but a short time to get the Gander ready for the journey. Before Puss and Mother Goose seated themselves on his back they said goodby to the Man in the Moon. They also bade farewell to the Old Woman, who jumped on her broom and hurried home. No doubt she was a bit worried about her cat, Tom, for she was very fond of him, although she often scolded him because he had some faults, as every cat has, I believe.

The Gander seemed in as much of a hurry to get home as did Mother Goose, and very shortly they were close to the woods. For the first time the Gander began speaking, or rather reciting, and this is what he said:

"Mother Goose had a house,
'Twas built in a wood.
Where an owl at the door
For sentinel stood.
She had a son Jack,
A plain looking lad;
He was not very good,
Nor yet very bad."

As the Gander finished he landed his two passengers in the clearing in the woods where stood Mother Goose's house. Yes, there was the little owl walking up and down with a small gun over his shoulder, keeping watch while Mother Goose was away. He looked very important and quite fierce, for every now and then he would ruffle his feathers as he strutted up and down. On hearing the noise the Gander made as he touched the ground the owl turned around and cried, before he noticed who it was: "Who goes there? Stop and give the countersign. His gun was lifted ready to shoot, but on seeing dear Mother Goose he dropped it, and with a glad hoot ran forward.

"Where's Jack?" asked Mother Goose, after patting the owl.

"He's still in bed," replied the bird. "He doesn't get up every morning as early as this."

"No, I guess not," replied Mother Goose, "not every morning, nor any morning." She opened the door and went in.

"Jack, Jack!" she called, "where are you?"

"Don't ask me, mother," answered a sleepy voice, "you know well enough where I am." Mother Goose turned to Puss Junior. "He's not a bad boy," she said, "only he loves to sleep late. He'll be down presently. Just make yourself at home while I take off my hat and cloak. It does feel good to be at home," and Mother Goose heaved a sigh of relief as she looked in the mirror to arrange her wind-blown hair.

"ANURIC"

Will Quickly
Stop it!

Simply to realize the importance of the enoing kidney trouble, by its first symptoms, backache or throbs through the kidney region, is money in one's pocket as well as years of sickness forestalled.

No organ of the body is more easily deranged than the kidneys. Day in and day out their action is constant, in separating poisonous matter from the blood. Most cases of kidney trouble may easily be overcome by merely taking hot water and a little "Anuric" before meals. Outsize daily voice their praise of the merits of "Anuric," the recent discovery of Doctor Pierce, of "Favorite Prescription" and "Golden Medical Discovery" fame.

For instance, here is a letter that of Mr. WALTER CARLSON, who says:

"I suffered for four years with pain in my back. I tried everything there was but they all failed to help me. I even went to a doctor and he could not cure my backache—said it was from the kidneys. A friend of mine advised me to try a box of Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets, and so I did; I need two boxes and the pains were gone. I am not telling any lie—the pain in my back was something terrible. As soon as I would bend over to get something from the floor I thought my whole back would burst.

"I would advise sufferers to try 'Anuric Tablets' and they will find results; they need not take my word for it."

Notes:—Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that "Anuric" is many times more potent than lithia in removing uric acid from the system.
